

Text Data Acquisition Protocol

1. The subordinate concepts of “open scholarship” were taken from the FORRT glossary.
There were a total of 216 subordinate headwords/concepts of “open scholarship”, according to the FORRT glossary.
2. Enter the exact same term/headword indexed in the FORRT glossary in other search engines or sites (i.e., IGI Global and Wiktionary).
3. Include the definitions of the exact term as appeared in the FORRT glossary.
4. For terms with brackets or with multiple terms concatenated as one entry in the FORRT glossary, and if no results are yielded in other search engines:
 - Whenever brackets are used in a term in the FORRT glossary, remove the brackets and search again.
 - If multiple entries are yielded, in which the terms only differ in plurality, include all results in our corpus.
 - If, still, no results are yielded, and if the contents in the brackets are acronyms of the term, search the acronyms only.
 - For concatenated entries, search the terms involved in a single entry separately in various search engines.
5. If an acronym is used in the FORRT glossary, but the yielded results are entries of the full form of the term, the yielded definitions of the full form are included.
6. If the full form of the term is used in the FORRT glossary, but the yielded results are entries of the acronym, the yielded definitions of the acronyms are included.